Spa Water- Naturally!

Spa Water Supply

Sante Per Aqua. 'Health through water' is the definition of a spa. The nature and source of water can define the character of your spa - as well as enhance your profits!

A private borehole supply can greatly reduce your water costs and add to the unique atmosphere and attraction of your spa.

Why Envireau Water?

Envireau Water are independent experts in all areas of water supply development management and treatment. Our experience is world wide and includes springs, boreholes, 'mineral' and thermal waters.

Our staff comprises hydrogeologists, water resource engineers and water treatment specialists all with extensive experience of projects in different geographic areas.

Our clients include Nirvana Spa, Center Parcs and Thermae Bath Spa.

What are the benefits of a private water supply?

And what did the Romans ever do for us? The original UK spa towns such as Bath and Buxton became famous because they had a source of 'natural' spa water that for centuries have attracted people from across the world - and still do. Depending on the geology beneath your spa you can replicate this by constructing a private water supply from a borehole. This can remove your dependence on mains water and reduce ongoing costs by up to 90% - every year.

Spa operators with an existing private water supply can confirm that the additional marketing and 'green' benefits include;

- Bottling of your own water brand
- Using natural waters for spa treatments and experiences
- Renewable energy; heating and cooling using your water supply to reduce energy costs

Which aspects can we help you with?

Envireau Water has a long and established technical background in all water related issues in spas, hotels and the leisure sector. From feasibility through to design, construction, legislative issues and ongoing support - we are here to help you by providing appropriate expertise, at an appropriate cost.

And the capital costs? In some cases a turnkey asset ownership model can save you the up-front costs and still provide spa water at a lower cost than your existing mains water supply.
